3 Current Issues

3.1 Personal Alcohol Licences

3.2 The Licensing Act 2003 states that the sale of alcohol must be authorised by a Personal Licence Holder. This licence was issued either under 'grandfather rights' or by the applicant passing a relevant course and disclosure check. The licence lasts for 10 years.

3.3 In 2014 the Government consulted on abolishing personal licences altogether. There was strong opposition from both the trade and licensing authorities and the Government decided to retain them, however they would last indefinitely rather than 10 years. The appropriate legislation has not yet been made and the first 10 year licence renewals are due in February 2015. Interim guidance has been issued by the Government for those licences due for renewal before the new legislation becomes law. This interim procedure has created additional work without any ability to charge a fee.
