1. BACKGROUND INFORMATION AND OPTIONS

There are currently 13 Primary Care Trusts in Cumbria and Lancashire. The Department of Health has asked the SHA to consult on three options. The SHA is only seeking views on the three options stated:

Option 1 – Four Primary Care Trusts

Blackburn with Darwen, Blackpool, Lancashire & Cumbria

Option 2 – Five Primary Care Trusts

Blackburn with Darwen, Blackpool, Morecambe Bay, Lancashire (excluding Lancaster City Council boundary) & North Cumbria

Option 3 – Six Primary Care Trusts

Blackburn with Darwen, Blackpool, Cumbria, Lancaster; Fylde, Wyre, Burnley, Rossendale, Pendle, Hyndbur & Ribble Valley, and West Lancashire, South Ribble, Chorley & Preston

Views are sought from a range of stakeholders including local authorities, patient and public forums and voluntary organisations.

2. WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The changes will mean new roles for PCTs including a new approach to commissioning, i.e. the process by which the NHS spends its money to ensure quality, fairness and value for money. It is envisaged, that under this new approach, GPs will have access to a commissioning budget and will lead developments that will produce more responsive local services.¹ Expected cost savings [on management and administration] will be re-invested in clinical services.

PCTs will be measured against Department of Health criteria including; improved co-ordination with social services, improved health and reduced inequalities through influencing councils and more public involvement in planning and delivery of local health care.

£250 million savings must be delivered nationally in management and administration costs, including £10 million in Cumbria and Lancashire.

3. WHAT NEXT?

¹ Consultation on New Primary Care Trusts Arrangements for the Cumbria & Lancashire SHA Area

Closing date for the consultation is 22nd March 2006. The SHA Board will meet on 10th April to agree a recommendation to go to the secretary of state. The Council will prepare its response to inform the debate in due course.

4. RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The Executive notes the report and agrees to the views of Community Overview and Scrutiny Committee.

5. IMPLICATIONS

None at this stage

Note: The full consultation document is available (15 pages) in hard copy or via e-mail.
